PUTUMAYO

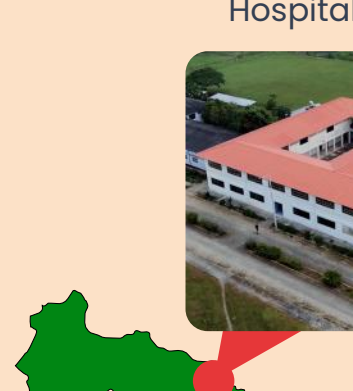

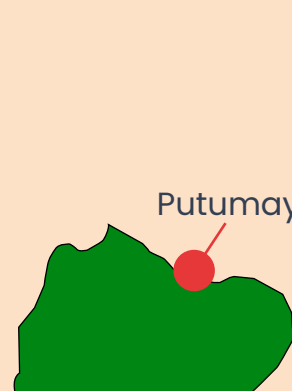

Puerto El Carmen, a village marked by conflicts, scarce resources, and very limited medical care. It is located in Putumayo, a remote region in northern Ecuador, on the border with Colombia and Peru. This strategic location in the Amazon rainforest allows us to provide assistance to patients in the village and the surrounding indigenous communities.

Hospital San Miguel

MEDICAL CARE IS NEEDED

This forgotten region of Ecuador faces an urgent medical need. Hospital San Miguel, built and founded by Quina Care, is making a difference. We provide 24-hour emergency services, a hospitalization area with shelter for families, consultations for adults, children, and pregnant women, ultrasounds, laboratory services, pharmacy, radiology, and minor surgical procedures.

Quina Care is a non-profit organization founded by two Dutch doctors, Jacob and Carolien van der Ende. The mission of Quina Care extends to providing the best basic healthcare services for the Putumayo area. A hospital in this area is crucial for the economic and educational development of its citizens and the surrounding communities.

We not only provide medical care but also opportunities. We are committed to training our local team to reach their full potential and apply their knowledge for the benefit of our patients and the region.
